

Contents

Signification

1

Signification

We return to the sign's inception: the binding of its terms. An evocation of the signifier toward its emerging signified. The mysterious magnetism that attracts monadics. The art of bringing forth of a readily available conceptual object. Who births the self-signaling sparks within a forest of contingency, snaps together all relata? This essay investigates the solid line drawn between x2 and y2.

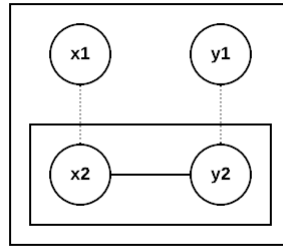

Figure 1: a dyadic sign with ontological consideration

What does this relation imply, and how is it made?